Dear Mark,

I wish to endorse your product having had Permagard applied to our aircraft for one year and recently completing our first annual service treatment.

We operate globally on an above fleet average utilisation. Our experience is that the aircraft retains a bright gloss and is easier to keep presentable.

Permagard offers easier cleaning and requires less maintenance, allowing us to be away from home base for longer periods without washing. This generally allows us to utilise our home base detailer who is familiar with the exterior finish and known to us.

Fuel savings cannot be precisely defined; however, I believe we are achieving a reduction of approximately 1%.

I am confident the paint life will be extended as a result of Permagard and commend both the product and your ongoing support of it.

Yours faithfully,
